To whom it may concern

Colin has been part of the Life Skills GO team for 6 months, tasked with the maintenance and day-to-day development of our educational video games.

Working closely with a 2D artist and lead by the lead designer, Colin's responsibilities included the brainstorming & creation of game design documents (and the communication of these documents to the team), the direction of artists on asset requirements, and the active development work to build and test each game.

Colin demonstrated an aptitude and ability to take on roles beyond his specific responsibilities, such as producing pedagogical game content, proactively breaking down user feedback & generating actionable work, and performing platform testing.

Colin is generally able to communicate clearly, is unafraid to think critically and would be a valuable addition to any game or software team.

Please give me a call if you have any questions.

Warm regards,
